GUY NORMAN TO ASK NOMINATIONRhode Island Man Would Aid
Preparedness Plans in Congress.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Representative Gardner May Help Him in Preliminary Campaign—Served
Under Capt. Evans in Navy.

Newport, R. I., Feb. 3.—The rumor current last spring that Guy Norman, of this city, would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress in the First Rhode Island district was confirmed when Mr. Norman made a statement which leaves no doubt of his determination to try to bring the nomination to Newport next autumn.

The preparedness issue is gaining strength as time goes on," says Mr. Norman, "and it can safely be predicted that during the next ten years the navy, especially, will be doubled and probably be reborn in fighting strength. Along with this growth will come the development of Narragansett Bay as the principal naval base on this seaboard, and it is my ambition to hasten the day when its strategic value will be recognized and a beginning made in the construction of dry docks, machine shops and other features of a naval port of the first order. I look forward also to a time in the near future when Capt. Robison will be employing 2,000 men at the Torpedo Station, and every available part of Goat Island will be utilized for the manufacture of torpedoes and other munitions.

"Moreover, Narragansett Bay, besides being pre-eminently adapted for a naval base, forms the approach to our great manufacturing city of Providence, which with assistance from the Federal Government is still further deepening its harbor approaches is sure to become an important port of entry and outlet for foreign commerce. I have always felt that every citizen owes some service to the community, and in my case I am anxious for an opportunity to devote my time and energy to the best interests of my native town and district."

Gardner Asked to Speak.

Mr. Norman will make an active campaign, beginning with a series of speeches to be given at the Colonial Theater Sunday afternoon. The first of these will be February 6, and Representative Augustus P. Gardner, of Massachusetts, has been asked to speak also at this meeting.

He says he is in the contest up to and through the nominating convention. His entry makes it appear that there may be a three-cornered contest for the nomination, as Roswell B. Burchard, candidate two years ago, is believed to be again a candidate, and Ezra Dixon, of Bristol, is expected to become a candidate.

Mr. Norman is a son of the late George H. and Abbie Kingsley Norman and was born in this city July 7, 1889. He attended schools in Boston and Germany and was graduated from Harvard University in 1910. Since then he has engaged in railroad and banking and has served as director of various corporations, and as co-trustee of his father's estate. During the war with Spain, Mr. Norman served as watch and division officer on battleship Iowa, then commanded by the late Admiral Robley D. Evans. He is a director of the Aqueduct National Bank and the Newport Water Works, and trustee and treasurer of the People's Library.

While his business has been largely in Boston he has for several years had a residence in Newport, owning an estate on Washington street. He also has an estate at Beverly, Mass., where he spends a portion of the year. His daughter, Miss Hope Norman, was married last June to Mr. Elliot Cowdin Bacon, son of Robert Bacon, Secretary of State under President Roosevelt and formerly United States Ambassador to France.

Will Lecture on Accountancy.

Charles Ashford Pace, of Pace &amp; Pace, accountants in New York, and member of the New York bar, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A. on "The Progress of Education for the Business Man." Mr. Pace and his brother are joint authors of the Pace &amp; Pace textbooks on accountancy.

HEAD STUFFED FROM
CATARRH OR A COLDSays Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens
Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head clear, and you can breathe freely. No more yawning, sniffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane, and relief comes instantly.

It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh—Adv.

SHE READS PALM
FOR DETECTIVESRoumanian Gypsy Girl Finds
Wealth and Love Affair for Them.

POLICE ARREST SEERESS

Haled Before Inspector, Prophetess
Story of Supporting Aged Mother Fails to Gain Release.

A pretty Roumanian Gypsy girl, 21, who claimed the divine power of foresight, stopped at a house near Sixth and K streets northwest, yesterday with an offer to look into the future of whoever might be her patron. She was admitted by one Jones, who was reluctant to exchange money for prophecies. Undeterred, the girl scanned his palm swiftly and with enthusiasm told him he was to be one about whom a love affair would rage.

A Mr. Beckley, a companion of Jones, held in his palm "signs of one who would be wealthy," the girl said. Then Jones suggested that the Gypsy tell the fortunes of the woman of the house, cutting her price of 50 cents in half.

To that time, the girl's pictures of the future were impersonal, so far as she was concerned, nor did they even contain the likelihoods of the housewife and, upon her return, Beckley and Jones explained their business. It seems they were police headquarters detectives who happened to be calling at the house on official business when the girl rang the door-bell.

Before Police Inspector Grant, the girl, who gave the Roumanian name of Mary Smith, said she was the only support of an aged mother and crippled brother. She came from Roumania three years ago, she said.

Her address was given as a Gypsy camp near Fifth street and Rhode Island avenue northeast. Charged with being an unlicensed fortune teller, she was released under collateral of $25.

SCHOOL ASSOCIATION MEETS.

The Cranch-Tyler Home and School Association held a monthly session yesterday in the Tyler School, in southeast Washington. Among the speakers was D. A. Edwards, president of the Lincoln Park Citizens' Association.

Mr. Edwards talked on the recommendation of the District Commissioners for control of the public schools of Washington, which was tabled recently by the House District Committee. Other speakers were Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, of the Congress of Mothers, and members of the school association.

Mrs. Allan Davis, president of the association, presided.

NEGRO INDICTED FOR
FIRST DEGREE MURDERFarley Carter, Charged with Slaying
Mary E. Johnson, also Colored,
Faces Two Indictments.

Farley Carter, colored, charged with shooting Mary E. Johnson, also colored, at her home in Twelfth street northwest, last November, inflicting wounds from which the woman died a few days later, was indicted yesterday by the grand jury on a charge of murder in the first degree. Carter also was indicted for an assault with a dangerous weapon, for having shot and assaulted Lieut. John E. Catts, of the vice squad, who attempted to arrest him.

Thomas N. Nuckolls, Jr., 38, of Detroit, who was indicted recently for making a false statement of his age in an application for a marriage license, was indicted yesterday for false pretenses. It is alleged he obtained $35 from a local hotel on a bogus check.

Eleven husbands were indicted for non-support: Golden Rule, George W. Ingram, Jeremiah McCarthy, Louis Furr, James McKeeney, George Marlow, George B. Kelly, Nicholas Davis, James W. Dixon, Leo E. Bowers, and Frank P. McShane.

Among the others indicted were Viola O'Connor, forger and utterer; Claude Gardner, robbery; Thomas Adams and Charles H. Lee, Jr., housebreaking and larceny; George Smith, second offense petit larceny; James Dickerson, grand larceny; Joseph E. Duffin, joy riding and housebreaking; Joseph Harris, second offense petit larceny; Louise Jackson and Charles Williams, assault with dangerous weapon; Fleming Whitby, robbery; Miguel F. Squira, housebreaking and larceny; John Allen, grand larceny; James R. Garges, Walter Brown, Paul Peters, and Elmer Humes, joy riding; Walter Reed and William J. Love, attempted robbery.

REPORTS AGAINST MORE
COMPULSORY FIRE STOPSPublic Utilities Commission States
Present Large Number Tends to Retard Car Service.

Stating that the present large number of fire stops tends to retard street car service, the Public Utilities Commission yesterday reported unfavorably on the recommendation of the fire department that Fourteenth and Clifton streets and Fourteenth street and Florida avenue northwest be designated fire stops. The commission states that it "is in favor of reducing rather than increasing the number of fire stops."

Commissioner Brownlow, who supervises the fire department, has under consideration a request from the Washington Railway and Electric Company that all fire stops be abolished. William F. Ham, vice president of the company, contended at a recent hearing before Commissioner Brownlow that Washington's car service would be made more efficient if the compulsory fire stops were abolished.

Acting Chief James Keiffer opposed the request of the railway company, holding that it would increase the danger of collisions between street cars and fire apparatus. Commissioner Brownlow probably will decide the question within a week.

HUNDREDS PROTEST
SMOKESTACKS ON MALLArchitects of Country Denounce Proposed Erection as Desecration of Sacred Beauty Spot.

The fight against the erection of four tall smokestacks on the proposed central heating plant for the Federal government in the Mall yesterday assumed nationwide proportions.

Hundreds of telegrams were received by Senator Martin and Representative Fitzgerald from prominent business men, architects, artists, and professional men, protesting against the erection of the stacks.

Branches of the American Institute of Architecture in many parts of the country yesterday sent to the Capitol letters of protest.

The message from the architects of Buffalo, N. Y., read:

"Don't lend your power and influence to allowing disfiguring heating plant chimneys to be built near the Mall and Washington Monument. No capital of Europe would tolerate such a thing. All Americans wish to feel a pride in Washington, its Mall and its monuments."

Decide for Commission Rule.

American cities of more than 50,000 inhabitants should have a commission form of government, according to the decision rendered by judges at a recent debate among members of the class of 1916, Washington College of Law. The affirmative was represented by Mr. Whittington, Miss Floyd, and Miss McCall. On the negative side were Mr. Shey and Mr. Schiavoni. The judges were Miss Simpson and Mr. Keiffer.

CARS TO PASS AQUEDUCT
BRIDGE ONE AT A TIMECommissioners Provide Additional Safeguards by Limiting Speed and Weight After February 8.

A regulation providing that only one car at a time shall pass the Aqueduct Bridge was adopted by the Commissioners yesterday as an additional safeguard against the shaky condition of the structure. The regulation further provides that no car shall cross the bridge at a greater speed than six miles an hour. The regulation becomes effective February 8.

Cars may stop at the north end of the bridge to take on or discharge passengers who will be permitted to leave and board cars from the west side only. Cars will not be permitted to stop on any other portion of the bridge. The weight of the cars is limited to thirty short tons.
